

All That Jazz

A Cowl by Phil at thetwistedyarn.com

All That Jazz is a stranded cowl, knitted in the round, and designed to be as eye-catching as it is cosy. The pattern as shown uses all 16 shades of the Stylecraft Batik range, but of course you may wish to use fewer colours, or a different DK-weight (light worsted) yarn entirely. The finished cowl weighs 104g (3.7oz) in Batik, which should give you an idea of the quantity of yarn needed if you're aiming for fewer colours. I'd recommend picking at least four or five shades, balancing neutrals with stronger hues.

Dimensions: Laid flat, the cowl is approximately 29cm (11.5") wide by 32cm (12.5") high.

Gauge: Let's not get too hung up on the exact size, but we're aiming for something with a gauge of roughly 22 stitches per 10cm/4" in stockinette on 4mm (US size 6) needles.

Stuff: You'll need 4mm (size 6) circular needles of 60cm (24") length. You may also want a stitch marker to mark the start of the round. And you'll require a needle to sew in the (many) ends.

And with that, you're ready to go. Below you'll find the chart for working the fairisle. I'm sure I don't need to mention this, but I'm going to remind you anyway: work from right to left, and from the bottom of the chart on the last page upwards, following the row numbers in the left hand column. In other words, do the exact opposite of what you'd do if you were reading text. Have fun! Once you're done, I'm afraid there will be a lot of ends to be woven in, but the result will be worth it.

Abbreviations in the chart below: k = knit, p = purl, sts = stitches, CO = cast on or cast off, accordingly.
